

Two Seconds to Forget the Pain

Cain's Dynasty

To forget the pain, forget the past
To forget the hate you have to love again
To change your life you have to change your mind
To change things you have to change yourself

I will need two seconds to forget the pain
All I want, is to hear your voice again
All I need, is to see your face today

It's hard to start when you're feeling sad
It's hard to see when everything is black
Forget the rage for the things you left
Release your heart and free yourself

I will need two seconds to forget the pain
All I want, is to hear your voice again
All I need, is to see your face today

Don't waste your time in hurting things
Time goes fast for every human being
Don't waste your life feeding hate
There's another way, it's never too late

I will need two seconds to forget the pain
All I want, is to hear your voice again
All I need, is to see your face today
