

The Flush

Cancerslug

The party is over
God has wiped his ass over us
We're just waiting for the flush, to take us down
You ever notice how every coincidence like deja vu sends us spiraling around and round

The parties over God has wiped his ass of us
We're just waiting for the flush to take us down
Ever notice how every coincidence like deja vu sends us spiraling around

The parties over God has wiped his ass of us

Go f*ck yourself and f*ck your fake religions they won't keep you safe when your world is crashing down

We're not looking for forgiveness cause mercy is for the weak and we are strong, and I'm not trying to be a voice of reason I'm a voice of a season that's come and gone
