Down

Candiria

I cannot sit back, shed my broken skin Curse my pride, I react, play yourself again Up, down and down again You live in a computer, you're an instant man Judged and told I can't, cut your shallow hands

How can I please all of your needs? What do you see when you see me?

I can't reach you Step back, heard your point of view Stand up, lay down for no one Take a piece of me with you Step back, now that I know you I know, you're down for no one

I bow down to no one, you like the faith Stand behind me, find your way You know you will decide Move on with me or step aside I could have lost my life And I'm made to risk it one more time

How can I please all of your needs? What do you see when you see me?

I can't reach you Step back, heard your point of view Stand up, lay down for no one Take a piece of me with you Step back, now that I know you I know, you're down for no one

I can't reach you Step back, heard your point of view Stand up, lay down for no one Take a piece of me with you Step back, now that I know you I know you're down for no one

I can't reach you Step back, heard your point of view Stand up, lay down for no one Take a piece of me, take a piece of me Take a piece of me with you
