Loss Of Words

Career Soldiers

We've been fooled again with smoke and mirrors They'll question your safety and play on your fears Same old game of wrong vs. right Same old hook that again we bite

You think we'd learn, but it just gets worse I'm at a loss of words
A voice of reason will never be heard
I'm at a loss of words

History repeats itself Armageddon, straight to hell

Different players but the same game
Same script with different faces and names
The poor die while profits are gained
Real people suffer and are left with the pain
It's an endless war with no peace in sight
We always need an enemy and evil to fight
Rallying patriotism and silencing dissent
A flood of propaganda to forget our discontent

I don't think we'll ever understand War can never bring peace It's and endless cycle of hate Creating new enemies

Our blood, their blood, it's just as red Just or unjust, innocents are just as dead We've seen it before and I'll tell you what's next More pain, more lies, and more death
