

Miss America

Carolina Liar

No, you want to think
That it's okay
The air is thin, you smoke anyway
It's just another day

You run in place
Until your legs, they shake
They ache, the pain don't change a thing
It's just another day

Just breathe
You don't have to say a word
It's never worth a fight
You're gonna lose your mind
You're dying Miss America

Looking for some sense of shelter
You don't know what you're after
No, why don't you turn to stone

You live so fast
All for no-one
Dream won't last
Forgotten where you're from
So where did all go wrong

Just breathe
You don't have to say a word
It's never worth a fight
You're gonna lose your mind
You're dying Miss America

Just breathe
You don't have to say the world
It's never worth a fight
You're gonna lose your mind
You're dying Miss America

Miss America!
Miss America!
There will be no setting sun tonight
We'll have to leave you home
Tonight!

You don't have to say a word
It's never worth a fight
You're gonna lose your mind
You're dying Miss America

Just breathe
You don't have to say a word
It's never worth a fight
You're gonna lose your mind
You're dying Miss America

Did you believe,
You were gonna fix it all?

You wanna be so strong
It'll always go so wrong

No, you want to think
That it's ok
To think it's just another day

No you want to think
That it's ok
