

No More Secrets

Carolina Liar

A million miles you could say I've been around
I played my part I been living like a clown
There were days that I could hardly say my name
So many times I swore that I would change my ways
Had a vision but it never took it's place
To be honest there are better men for you
So don't you tell me what to do, oh no
No don't you tell me what to say, oh no

'Cause I've been wrong so many times
It feels like home but I've burned it to the ground
No more secrets
I tell you that I cannot hide
An open book with nothing left between the lines
No more secrets

I'm coming down for neverending truth
I never knew how good it felt to get a grip
If I lose you now I lose myself again
So don't you tell me what to do, oh no
No don't you tell me what to say, oh no

'Cause I've been wrong so many times
It feels like home but I've burned it to the ground
No more secrets
Oh baby I tell you, I tell you that I cannot hide
No more secrets

I'm coming down
I've played my part
Yeah, I'm coming down

'Cause I've been wrong so many times
It feels like home but I've burned it to the ground
No more secrets
'Cause I've been wrong so many times
It feels like home but I've burned it to the ground
No more secrets
I tell you that I cannot hide
No more secrets
