

Reach for the Sky

Carousel Kings

Remember way back in 2003 when we were so sublime
Now looking back I never saw your face

Here in this moment
I only dream of things that I know you could never take from me
Much like these nightmares
I have a lot of dreams betraying me

This bridge won't be taken alive but neither will my heart
I'll stay true and fight for my pride
Like a lion's mane

I speak the truth

Choke me faster
I know that you want me to breathe this too We're not making progress, these feelings won't surface when there's 3,000 miles to drive

The same time I lost my faith when all I had left was my cry
I know my comrades will guide me to my dreams as we reach for the sky.
