

Fallin'

Cary Brothers

I thought I was livin' life in the right lane but honest to a fault was not enough I owe you an explanation for how I got myself into this rut scared the ceiling's too low, can't stand up and run earthquake save me and bring this building to dust baby can't you see me fallin, fallin going down despite your love

sold my soul and time is up beat, broke, tired before you met me suffered through the perils of my youth he offered me a choice, couldn't say no now he'll come collect upon the truth my heart ain't part of the deal, and love is the proof so the only thing I have left, babe, I give to you

sold my soul and time is up

I've come to ask you... is this the way you want to go?
cut and run now?
or will you hold out?
I need the answer can't read the writing on the wall is this the last call of all I fought for?
