

At seven years old everything was right
Table for four on a Friday night
Didn't see any signs of a dead end road

By the time I was ten everything was changing
Fell asleep every night prayin
Didn't know which way to go

Mama did her best to hide her anger
And I did my best to try and save her

I was a little too young and a little too dumb
To ever think the day would come
When dad would drive away
And take his love with him
So I grew up fast in a whole new world
Waved goodbye to that little girl
I can see her now, innocent and seven
I wish I had never turned eleven

We moved into a smaller house
How mama did it oh I don't know how
Never went to bed without eating

At thirteen I finally realized
What it means to get on with your life
But daddy sure did and he made it look easy

Mama did her best to hide the struggle
And I did my best to stay out of trouble

I was a little too young and a little too dumb
To ever think the day would come
When dad would drive away
And take his love with him
So I grew up fast in a whole new world
Waved goodbye to that little girl
I can see her now, innocent and seven
I wish I had never turned eleven

I wish that I could turn back time
And tell myself it'll be alright
You're never gonna lose a lot in your eyes

I was a little too young and a little too dumb
To ever think the day would come

So I grew up fast in a whole new world
Waved goodbye to that little girl
I can see her now, innocent and seven
I wish I had never turned eleven
I wish I had never turned eleven

I wish I had never turned eleven
