

Let Me Go

Cassadee Pope

I told you right from the start
I would give you my heart
Cause I'm just a fool like that
Always one to believe
In the best but the evil
Comes out and throws me off track
Remember when you told me that
You'd always stand by me

But you don't get me so why you gotta keep on holding me back like this
You don't want me but you won't take these chains off of my wrists
I'll never be good enough for you, never be good enough
What are we doing
You don't get me so
So let me go
So let me go

The dreams I got for me
They ain't yours to keep
I had em long before you came around
I'll be damned if I pack
Them away in the back of a drawer to never be found
I had to fall apart
To light the spark
That fired me up again

But you don't get me so why you gotta keep on holding me back like this
You don't want me but you won't take these chains off of my wrists
I'll never be good enough for you, never be good enough
What are we doing
You don't get me so
So let me go
So let me go

So let me go

I had to fall apart
To light the spark
That fired me up again

But you don't get me, so why you gotta keep on holding me back like this?
You don't want me, but you won't take these chains off from my wrists
, no
I'll never be good enough for you, never be good enough
What are we doing? You don't get me so, so let me go
So let me go

So let me go
