

Well its taken all the time that I have now
To get me as far as I've got
Though the road we all travel ain't easy
You don't get anywhere if you stop

Oh my friend
I believe that your by my side
I can feel that your right by my side
Don't you stop

Leaves they are falling around you
Seasons are changing within
Your blowing your own self direction
You are ready to begin

Oh my friend
I believe that your right by my side
I can feel that your right by my side
Don't you stop

Oh, Oh, Oh, now the storm it blows
And the sea, it rise like a deep blue sky
And the wind just keeps on blowing
Cold dust keeps on falling, falling falling

This song I sing
Takes a lifetime to sing
This wine I drink
I raise a glass now and breathe

Don't you think
Don't you think, about the good times we've had
If I could, if I ever would now
If I should let you in
Let you in to me
You see
Takes a lifetime to breathe
