

Gypsy Song

Cast

My loneliness was just waiting for you
My one regret was just seeing through you
These falling steps were just walking to you
My one mistake was just reaching for you

You really should've waited for me
You should've kept the love you swore you'd keep
And now the only image that's left is this burning phage

I've lost my way but I've seen where to go
The ocean seems braver for meeting the shore
But I've lost what I've won

These memories so haunting of you
My one request is not being with you
My tortured heart is just bleeding for you
My loneliness still waiting for you

You really should've waited for me
You should've kept the love you swore you'd keep
And now the only feeling that's left is this aching in my chest

I've lost my way but I've seen where to go
The ocean seems braver for meeting the shore
Now I've lost what I've won

You really should've waited for me
You should've kept the love you swore you'd keep
And now the only feeling that's left is this aching in my chest
You really should've waited for me
You should've kept the love you swore you'd keep
And now the only feeling that's left is this aching in my chest
You really should've waited for me
You should've kept the love you swore you'd keep
And now the only feeling that's left is this aching in my chest
You really should've waited for me
You should've kept the love you swore you'd keep
And now the only feeling that's left is this aching in my chest
You really should've waited
