I Regret

Cataract

Now that I've got you Where i always wanted you to be Fallen from your throne There will be no heaven for you What can i do What will i do As you crawl in front of me Shot point blank in your knees You will never rise again See the world you used to see I haunt you in the dreams you have I turn your future black And i will waste every inch of the way you walk Shattered dreams Eye for an eye Death before dishonour Regret the day i was born
