

Now his intentions unfold, they're not what they seem
He only wants to take control
Boy is he selling you loads, all you do is concede
Grant him his black eyed fantasies
He claims that he knows you, says it written in the stars
Do you believe this bullshit?
Tell me you don't want to face this situation anymore than I do

You think it's so great, keep it up at this rate
You're bound to catch it if you wait
I've seen the symptoms before, they come as they please
Here comes the low rent man again

He'll claim that he knows you, says it written in the stars
Will you believe this bullshit?
Tell me you don't want to face this situation anymore than I do

So what does he have in store, does he need you to bleed?
Inadequate in all he breathes
He claims that he knows you, says it written in the stars
Do you believe this bullshit?
If you don't want to face this situation anymore, then I don't