Night of the Seagulls

Cathedral

We are the blind dead No eyes inside our head Our senses lead us to your nightmare Centuries of death we wear Pharaoh's cross in dust we bare Immortal horses slowly ride us to you

Through the black mist They ride Knights templar - arise

The shores unearthly dead Mournful mothers chilled with dread Leave their offspring to knights templar They rise from the sea At midnight the prize you see Tied to the post - a virgin screaming

Through the black mist They ride Knights templar - arise - oh!!!

Into our castle led Seagulls howling overhead The ritual you face You shall no after Your blood we drink for eternity Flesh unto the crabs we leave And feed your heart unto Aquarian master
