

Tell Me

Cathy Dennis

Night after night you're stealing my dreams,
Just the same as you always do.
And nothing's been right
Since you walked from my life.
Don't you know that I'm missing you?
Tell me, baby, are you really gonna take me home?
Tell me, baby, are you really gonna take me home?
How can it be right,
When half my life is gone?
'Cause this heart only beats for you.
Forgive and forget, that's all I'm asking.
I can promise that your hurting is through.
Tell me, baby, are you really gonna take me home?
Tell me, baby, are you really gonna take me home?
'Cause I've been waiting much too long.
Trying to change those things I've done,
Just wishing you'd come back.
Time is moving on.
Why am I alone?
Tell me, baby, are you really gonna take me home?
Tell me, baby, are you really gonna take me home?
Are you really gonna take me home?
Tell me, see'mon, see'mon, see'mon, baby,
Won't you take me home?
See'mon, see'mon, are you really gonna take me home?
See'mon, see'mon, see'mon, baby,
Won't you take me home?
See'mon, see'mon, are you really gonna take me home?
