The Ripe Beneath The Rind

Cattle Decapitation

Flesh shall flay Peeled back -- exposing the nutrients of contents of mammal Nutritious, delicious fruit The stratified-squamous: keratinized Epithelia dissected Pseudo-stratified columnar, uni-cellular goblets (cells) secreting mucus Gored out The flesh is ripened - ready to gorge Visceral contents empty on the floor Like a fine wine the organs disgorge Victim lies begging but I'm wanting more The pain is insane, a new anus is torn Gaping slice Opened wide, peeling rind -- bleeding, spurting everywhere... (now revealing the salty goodness beneath and flash frying it) Lancing meat Tender outside -- juicy inside - disgusts me... Chopping, dicing, scrutinizing, dissecting and separating A corpse is still a corpse, of course we dine with no remorse We've sharpened all the knives to know the ripe that's beneath the rind A blood lust curiosity, what makes these humans tick? I've known it all my life... BLOOD Flesh shall flay Peeled back -- now exposing the nutrients of contents of mammal Nutritious, delicious fruit The stratified-squamous: keratinized Epithelia dissected Pseudo-stratified columnar, uni-cellular goblets (cells) secreting mucus Gored out And like a wild boar your head is hunted And like a cantelope your head is opened And like a pork belly your skin seared sterile And underneath it lie the lies, the murder, the man, the meat
