

You Are

Chad Brock

You're not just someone that I,
Think about from time to time.
Girl, you're on my mind,
In life, non-stop.

You're not just a picture on my wall;
Not just someone that I call,
Right before I fall.
Can't sleep, baby.

You are the song that's playin' in my head;
The best book I ever read.
An' all the passion that exists in every kiss.
You are the little whisper in my ear;
That says the things I love to hear.
It's obvious who's in my heart:
You are.

You're more than just someone I see,
When I need some company.
I want you with me,
In life, non-stop.

You're more than words could ever say;
More than a poet could convey,
But I'll try anyway,
Just so you know.

You are the song that's playin' in my head;
The best book I ever read.
An' all the passion that exists in every kiss.
You are the little whisper in my ear;
That says the things I love to hear.
It's obvious who's in my heart:
You are.

You are the song that's playin' in my head; (In my head.)
The best book I ever read.
An' all the passion that exists in every kiss.
You are the little whisper in my ear;
That says the things I love to hear.
It's obvious who's in my heart:
You are. (You are, you are.)
You are, you are. (You are, you are.)
