

I Still Can't Leave Your Memory Alone

Charley Pride

Last night it came around again and went walking through my mind
And again it's got the best of me and I felt just like a child
After all the hurt it caused me I guess I sure have known
But I still can't leave your memory alone
No I still can't leave your memory alone it's all I've got to cling to since you've gone
Yes I know that it's over but I keep hanging on
And I still can't leave your memory alone

Tonight I should make you go erase you from my mind
But I can only lose you one thought at a time
And Lord I pray the time will come when one day I'll be strong
But I still can't leave your memory alone
No I still can't leave...
No I still can't leave your memory alone
