

Evening Comes

Charlie Winston

Feels like my passions are changing
Since I was kissed by that mysterious girl
And I felt that night
A way I've never felt before
Now when the evening comes
It's like a devil in my soul
I see impressions of apocalypse
With eyes stone cold

I'm looking for a new flavour
I've got a hunger for a different taste
And when the day is new
It hurts to put the sun on my face
But when the evening comes
That's when the night life calls
I hear the beating of the young hearts
And I want it all so

Hey! (Hey!)
What is there to say?
Now I get that fever
I'm waking with it every day
That's when the evening comes
But no one's home

Back in the club where I met her
Trying to understand what she did
Am I the only one
Looking for a reason to live?
'Cos when the evening comes
Who you gonna call?
I wanna offer you protection
But no one's home so

Hey! (Hey!)
What is there to say?
Now I get that fever
I'm waking with it every day
That's when the evening comes
But no one's home

And when the evening comes
Who you gonna call?
You got me hanging and waiting and falling
And hanging and waiting and falling
Upon my prey, hey

Hey! (Hey!)
What is there to say?
Now I get that fever
I'm waking with it every day (hey!)
That's when the evening comes
But no one's home so

Hey! (Hey!)
What is there to say?
Now I get that fever

I'm waking with it every day (hey!)
That's when the evening comes
But no one's home
