

Just Sayin'

Charlie Winston

We sat with your cup half full
Talking through the night
About the wrongs and rights that he's making
In the background I heard Bobby playing
Just sayin'
"So-so" were the words you chose
Throwing hands in the air
Expressing all the ways that he's bailing
But your tune soon changed when he came in
Just sayin'

Please, if you're gonna pick at bones
Then it's him you need
'Cos nothing changes when we sleep
With weights upon our chest
I confess, I get unpleasant when I can't express

Letting go, that's all we have left
I take control but I lose my breath by holding on
And I think I see the same in you
Just sayin'

Slow down, you talk too fast, you gotta
Pick up the pieces make the good times last
And stop blaming,
'Cos it's only a fool that you're making
I'm just sayin'
You say, it's all too much, you wanna
Go back to loving when you feel his touch and you're shaking
Well you won't make it there if you're faking
I'm just sayin'

Please, if you're gonna pick at bones
Then it's him you need
'Cos nothing changes when we sleep
With weights upon our chest
I confess, I get unpleasant when I can't express

Letting go, that's all we have left
I take control, but I lose my breath by holding on
And I think I see the same in you

Just sayin' [x6]

Letting go, that's all we have left
I take control, but I lose my breath by holding on
And I think I see the same in you
Just sayin'

Letting go, that's all we have left
I take control, but I lose my breath by holding on
And I think I see the same in you
Just sayin'
