Deep Water

Peace behind your eyes is nothing I admire Revealed, devoted to something you can't hide In to the darkest hour, she cast upon her roam Haven't you learned how this went too far Has it been a sin, the weight on me and than I could steap.

Slow where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail dreams Buried in deep water, built in me.

A song for lost desire to make it all come alive Revealed, devoted to something you can't hide Slowly breathing in what they have praise to still Haven't they learned how this went too far The weight on me the more than I could reap.

Slow where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail dreams Buried in deep water, built in me. Where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail dreams.

She's on for the everlast scumdesire and the lust will burn her eyes Free round in heaven and back to hell, where the courage blows the horns.

Slow where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail dreams Buried in deep water, built in me. Where it sleeps forevermore, buried in frail dreams.

Charon