

The Night Your Guardian Fell Asleep

Chasing Victory

It would take an army of angels
To restore her health back to herself
Her heart belongs to another
A boy whose mystery exaggerates
She won't be hard to save

So where's the show, somebody's gotta know
We're coming out, coming out tonight
So where's the show, somebody's gotta know
We're coming out, coming out tonight

When her car goes up in flames
We'll find a way to take away her pain
Don't kill the fire, just kill the girl
We'll sort this out when we get back
Don't let her go, let her go

So where's the show, somebody's gotta know
We're coming out, coming out tonight
So where's the show, somebody's gotta know
We're coming out, coming out, coming out
Tonight

Who picked her up in the ambulance
Who picked her up in the ambulance
Who picked her up
Who picked her up

So where's the show, somebody's gotta know
We're coming out, coming out tonight
So where's the show, somebody's gotta know
We're coming out, coming out, coming out
Tonight
