

Running To The Sea

Chicane

We're running to the sea
With a change of heart
A dream that's all but gone
A future torn apart

We're running to the sea
With a change of mind
To live the life that we once knew
And heard not far behind

We're running to the sea
Dreaming you're still here
So many days without you
Still living with this fear

We're running to the sea
Morning sun and hot
How many times you loved her
Still so far apart