Frozen in Time

Chimaira

Suspicion growing A feeling I cannot control Communication, communication low The invasion is necessary, the dangers are secondary This was never meant to be A lifetime of instability I guess, I was always weak Someone please, rescue me Frozen in time Can't control what's inside of me Frozen in time I left my soul behind I'm at the end of the line Trapped in my mind, empty and blind Frozen in time Can't control what's inside I see myself dying And all these paranoid delusions frighten me Manipulating vitality An unspeakable evil latches on to agony Attacking my body Impurity spreading through me, like a parasite Desensitized to the world While the plagues controlling, like a fucking parasite The same demons keep haunting Sending their warning, it's unrelenting Frozen in time Frozen in time This was never meant to be A lifetime of instability I guess, I was always weak October the leaves buried me Frozen in time Can't control what's inside of me Frozen in time I left my soul behind I'm at the end of the line Trapped in my mind, empty and blind Frozen in time Can't control what's inside
