

Temptation's Big Blue Eyes

China Crisis

They push and pull you through
And try to change your attitude
Well I hope you're not unaware
These situations
And why they occur

Two boys and two girls
And what a party
We could have had
So many souls in different worlds
And, what a difference
We're going to make
To someone who's special like you

Temptation's big blue eyes
They're disbelievers in a thin disguise
Well, I need a cause for my empty head
I've no illusions
And my flag is red

Two boys and two girls
And what a party
We could have had
So many souls in different worlds
And, what a difference
We're going to make
To someone who's special like you

Am I too serious
Maybe too young at heart
Too stupid to understand
My politics are a one night stand
