

Keep In Mind

Chinawoman

The sunlight looks so beautiful on your dying face
Gives a sense of urgency to our kiss

Even the flowers on parade
Fear soon their cameos will end

We are friends because we know how much it means
Sharing in the story given the ending

Somewhere someone now writes our names
But this edition's limited

So when we touch let's keep in mind
This flesh is rotting all the time
And when we make love be advised
Tomorrow we could both evaporize
If there's something you desire
Confess it now while we're alive
And when we make love keep in mind
That there's a universe inside
This sexy creature

Somewhere someone now writes our names
But this edition's limited

So when we touch let's keep in mind
This flesh is rotting all the time
And when we make love be advised
Tomorrow we could both evaporize
If there's something you desire
Confess it now while we're alive
And when we make love keep in mind
That there's a universe inside
This sexy creature
