

Baby I Call Your Name

Chris Norman

I lie awake and think of you
Baby I call your name, baby I call your name

When the night is here and the world is dark
And nothing's where it's all meant to be
Will you wait for me, say you'll wait for me

The nights, those long and lonely nights
They seem to last so long, oh, oh
I lie awake and think of you
Baby I call your name, baby I call your name

If the sky should fall all around my feet
When everything is all so incomplete
Do you think of me, darling think of me

The nights, those long and lonely nights
They seem to last so long, oh, oh
I lie awake and think of you
Baby I call your name, baby I call your name

And I don't really know
Why I'm feeling so low
Thinking of you, thinking of you

The nights, those long and lonely nights
They seem to last so long, oh, oh
I lie awake and think of you
Baby I call your name, baby I call your name

The nights, those long and lonely nights
