

Every Little Thing

Chris Norman

The way she walks the way she smiles
The way she looks at me sometimes
She's in my heart and in her style
She has the power to hypnotise
And I'm alright 'cos day and night
Oh she'll never realise oh oh oh
How happy she's made me

Every little thing she does is burning down the bridges
Is tearing at my heart like everything is new
Every little thing she does is changing my religion
It's turning me around in everything I do
Every little thing oh oh
every little thing oh oh every little thing

And when she's close to me
Well that's alright with me
The world is in its place
And if she wants to be
She is a mystery
A love I can't replace - every little thing

The way she laughs and the way she cries
I've seen it all a hundred times
There's a kind of magic that's in her eyes
There is no need to compromise
Well I'm alright 'cos day and night
Oh she'll never really know oh oh
How happy she's made me

Every little thing she does is burning down the bridges
Is tearing at my heart like everything is new
Every little thing she does is changing my religion
It's turning me around in everything I do
Every little thing oh oh
every little thing oh oh every little thing
Every little thing
Every little thing ...
