

I Melt Away

Chris Norman

I couldn't say goodbye cos my heart was breaking
You looked me in the eye and my hands were shaking
Well that's what love can do

No matter what you say I can never change it
No matter how I try well I just can't face it
To walk away from you is more than I can do

I melt away when I see your face
My knees begin to shake my heart begins to race
And when your near, I really come undone
You knock me off my feet and every time we meet
I melt away, I melt away

Well you came into my heart when the light was fading
I took you by the hand and your love was waiting
There's nothing I could do

Cos every time we touch baby I'm on fire
And baby when we kiss couldn't get no higher
So beautiful and new I'm so in love with you

I melt away when I see your face
My knees begin to shake my heart begins to race
And when your near, I really come undone
You knock me off my feet and every time we meet
I melt away, I melt away

Well I couldn't say goodbye cos my heart was breaking
You looked me in the eye and my hands were shaking
Well that's what love can do, so beautiful and new

I melt away when I see your face
My knees begin to shake my heart begins to race
And when your near, I really come undone
You knock me off my feet and every time we meet
I melt away, I melt away, I melt away
