

It Ain't Easy

Chris Norman

It isn't easy I know
Jealousy is such a crazy feeling
You don't know whether to laugh
Or whether to cry

And you will do anything
Just to rid yourself of this feeling
It isn't easy to smile
When you flatten your pride

When you tried to put it all behind you
Seems that everything is there to remind you
It isn't easy when you're living with a broken heart
It ain't easy, it ain't easy
It isn't easy when you're living with a broken heart
It ain't easy, it ain't easy
It isn't easy when you're living with a broken heart

Keeping out of all the usual places
Can't stand inquisitive faces
Don't want to let anybody know
That you're breaking down again
Breaking down again

You keep telling yourself
You keep telling yourself
Now it's over that you really don't mind
But no it really won't change
How you feel inside

You keep kicking yourself
You keep kicking yourself
You said you'd never let it happen again, no
Once again you find yourself
Flatten your pride

When you tried to put it all behind you
Seems that everything is there to remind you
It isn't easy when you're living with a broken heart
It ain't easy, it ain't easy
It isn't easy when you're living with a broken heart
It ain't easy, it ain't easy
It isn't easy when you're living with a broken heart
