

Somebody's Watchin'

Chris Rice

Another night slips away
As the events of the day
Keep burning deep in your mind
Why cant you leave them behind
And theres no one there in the dark
To share the ache in your heart
But no matter where you are
Youre not really alone
Somebodys watchin that lonely heart inside
Somebodys watchin, aint missed a tear youve cried
Somebodys watchin, even the dark cant hide you
Somebodys watchin you, you know that
Somebodys watchin you
A million thoughts in your head
Toss you around in your bed
As the night drags on
Without a warning youre drawn
Into a childhood memory
Of a God Who never sleeps
Is He still lookin down on me?
Does He really care?
Somebodys watchin that lonely heart inside
Somebodys watchin, aint missed a tear youve cried
Somebodys watchin, even the dark cant hide you
Somebodys watchin you, you know that
Somebodys watchin you
Through the darkest night His love can reach
Into the secret place of your heart
Somebodys watchin that lonely heart inside
Somebodys watchin, aint missed a tear youve cried
Somebodys watchin, even the dark cant hide you
Somebodys watchin you, you know that
Somebodys watchin you
