

I Said She Said

Christie

I said
Where are you going
Now that you've found
That the world isn't round anymore
She said
What does it matter now
I'll get along somehow
Tomorrow is another day
I will be far away

I said
I'm gonna miss you
The touch of your hand
The sound of your voice in my ear
She said
I should be leaving
No time for grieving
Oh well, it was just a game
I'll never be the same

Falling is the rain
Drowning my tears
Time will ease the pain
And steal the years

She said
Think what you're doing
You were my ruin
And all my dreams came tumbling down
Turning me round and round, round and round
