Only the Sun

Circa Survive

Breaking in, all the answers I've lost All of... More than efforts here you sat Making a noose out of everything you use You use everyone directly out of sight

When you don't have to make my eye
(I'm afraid of the day it will never come)
I don't know if I can

Turn this away, sensory everywhere I sing
I she'd nothing but this lie when I believe
Not long to there, but I can't go where you've been Buried all on top the energy we create

There's a strain on my eye When you're standing too close to what you want

When you don't have to make my eye
(I'm afraid of the day it will never come)
I don't know if I can
(I'm afraid of the day it will never come)
By the time this dream is tearing us apart
When you get what you want
