

Maybe That's Why

Cirith Ungol

I don't know how you really feel.
I just know you've been hurt.
Wish I could say what I really feel,
But I know you need more than words.
To say everything I wanted to say,
I'd have to write a book.
But you can say so much more
With just a single look.

Maybe that's why, maybe that's why,
I love you....

Close my eyes and I see your face,
My heart starts beating your name.
Look in your eyes and I melt away,
I know I'll never be the same

Now here's the moral of the story,
I know it's easier said than done.
Believe in your dreams, believe in yourself,
No matter, no matter what comes.
You've got the power, you've got the strength,
I know you're gonna pull through.
And just in case it matters,
Remember that I believe in you.
