

Stormbringer

Cirith Ungol

The howling winds of chaos sound above the battle cry
As we slay the beasts and drink their souls to keep us half alive
Our blade will moan a fearful song, an endless dance of death
Until the lords of chaos fall and gasp their final breath

And now we feel endless evil coursing through our veins
We feel the long dead legions, all their suffering and pain
We brought about the end of time to all the Gods we swore
Now all that's left is entropy and dust forevermore

Stormbringer
Forged in ancient fire
Stormbringer
Beneath the new born sun
Stormbringer
Forever joined together
Stormbringer
The blade and I are one

Reflected in the stagnant pool, the scars of life well worn
The retribution of that cursed blade, and from our fingers torn
We can't escape our destiny or from our future borne
Giving up our blackened heart, there's no one left to mourn

As we finally bring the curtain down and speak our last regrets
Farewell to our conscience, and the soul we never met
We have seen the world stop turning and all the others die
We no longer have humanity to brave the word goodbye

Stormbringer
Forged in ancient fire
Stormbringer
Beneath the new born sun
Stormbringer
Forever joined together
Stormbringer

Stormbringer
Forged in ancient fire
Stormbringer
Beneath the new born sun
Stormbringer
Forever joined together
Stormbringer
The blade and I are one

The blade and I are one
The blade and I are one
The blade and I are one
