

Walking Distance

Citizen

Another night out on the docks with the lights on.
Steve's trying to light up a fire in the backyard.
I always told him that it'd never work for us.

We're growing up, it's been the longest time,
since we've been downtown,
yeah, since we've been downtown.
The winters over, yeah its been a few weeks.
I'm counting down till, I'm counting down till now.

Now that we have to go!
Now that we have to go!
Now that we have to go!

All my friends think I'm just stainless.
All my friends think I'm just stainless.

Another night out on the docks with the lights on.
Steve's trying to light up a fire in the backyard.
I always told him that it'd never work for us.
It's been awhile since we've walked down these back streets.
I never felt so wrong in defeat.
I always thought this can't be good for us.

Hanging out in parking lots and,
stealing shit from cars on the weekend.
In the end we thought nothing was wrong.

But, all my friends think,
all my friends think I'm the one who's wrong.

Another night out on the docks with the lights on.
Steve's trying to light up a fire in the backyard.
I always told him that it'd never work for us.
It's been awhile since we've walked down these back streets.
I never felt so wrong in defeat.
I always thought this can't be good for us.

And all my friends think,
all my friends think I'm the one who's wrong.
And all my friends think,
all my friends think I'm the one who's wrong.
