

I Made A Song On Garage Band And All I Got Was This Lousy Record Deal

City Lights

Everyone knows that you've been
Faking what you're saying
And everybody's tired
Of all the songs that you've been playing

It's time for a changing of the guards
In this music scene
And it's time to get your story straight
That's why I'm calling out

All of the kids
Who want something real
Now is the time
To let the world know how you feel

This is a call to anyone who's listening
Change is coming sooner than you think
So you can just forget everything

Everyone knows that you've been
Lying to their faces
Syncing up your look and sound
With all the latest crazes

But you're not fooling them
They've seen this all before
Our friends have had it up to here

All of the kids
Who want something real
Now is the time
To let the world know how you feel

This is a call to anyone who's listening
Change is coming sooner than you think
So you can just forget everything / x2

Forget everything you thought you knew
About the industry standard
'Cause you're out of business now

This is a call to anyone who's listening
Change is coming sooner than you think
So you can just forget everything / x2
