

What It Takes

City Lights

Maybe life won't be the way
That I planned it out to be
But if I try, I just might make it.

I'm just making sure that I
Don't turn over my whole feet, and keep my eyes
In front of me.

What do you see, where are you going?
Is this real? Am I just killing time.
Travelling on a broken wings to know if.

To taste the day I wont give up the fight
Instead I'm gonna prove I've got what it takes.

Keep in mind it's not your place.
It's just the life I choose and tell me,
I'm not great, I need to obey.

I'm just doing things I've asked.
That I know how anything, might wear you down.
To perfect me.

I never said that it'd be easy.
Is this real? Am I just killing time.
Travelling on a broken wings to know if.

To taste the day I wont give up the fight
Instead I'm gonna prove I've got what it takes.

I've made my mistakes, but I won't turn back now.
Light burns up my back, and we will stand a ground. (2x)

I'm tired of pretending to be happy when I'm not.
I'm sick of acting impressed when everything that you can do.
I can do, just as well in my whole life.
And yes this song's about YOU. (2x)
