

I'll Let You Go

Clan of Xymox

you said you wanted to come along it smelled like a certain scent of wrong i noticed the guile around your smile You held the torch for a little while A little while, a little while, a little while you willingly gave me a ride Then I would go back to the night outside at recent point i had enough of all these games concerning my heart Now we are alone
now it's the time
to speak my mind
to let you know
to let you know
i'll let you go
i'll let you go
i'll let you go
you want to come
inside my home
to trip my mind
why i let you go
i'll let you go
i'll let you go
i'll let you go
i'll let you go
i want to say good bye my love
i want to say good bye
