

A Girl in Every Port

Cliff Richard

There's a girl in every port
Picture her passin' by on some streets
Follow her, follow her, follow her, she may be
The girl you always dream you'd meet

There's a girl in every port
With a smile in a style of her own
Follow her, follow her, follow her, she may be
The girl who is meant for you alone

She's just a face in the crowd and yet
She may be the face you can never forget

There's a girl in every port
That you glance just by chance passin' through
Follow her, follow her, follow her, she may be
The girl that's waitin' just for you

There's a girl in every port
And a voice in our heart seems to say
Follow her, follow her, follow her, she may be
The one who mustn't get away
So let's meet the girl that they've sent us today
