

Going Away

Cliff Richard

Maybe I should have tried a little bit harder
If I told you now you'd only turn me away
And if time didn't fly so fast
We might have been wiser
But time's not on the side of the people these days

For I was just a fool who got in your way
Without intention to be hurt in any way
And I'm going away, turning my head, and I'm going away
Not even thinking I'm letting you down
I've made up my mind and I'm going away

Maybe when I'm gone, things'll get better
But I guess my thoughts will fly to you every day
And if we had more time, we could have made it
And maybe we wouldn't have to call it a day

But I was just a fool who got in your way
Without intention to be hurt in any way
And I'm going away, turning my head, and I'm going away
Not even thinking I'm letting you down
I've made up mind and I'm going away

Oh I'm going away, turning my head, and I'm going away
Not even thinking I'm letting you down
I've made up my mind and I'm going away

Yes I'm going away, turning my head, and I'm going away
Not even thinking I'm letting you down
I've made up my mind and I'm going way
Oh I'm going away
