

Lindsay Jane

Cliff Richard

Carried away on a never turning tide
We sailed on an ocean of pleasure
And even though I know, we may never meet again
You're a part of me now and I treasure you, Lindsay Jane

You taught me to feel, what I used to ignore
Brought alive all my senses to living
And even though I know, we may never meet again
Be aware of the love that I'm giving you, Lindsay Jane

Lindsay Jane, you belong to another world
A part of the sea and the sky
You're a part of my dreams, but a lasting memory
Still I wish you were mine, Lindsay Jane

We followed the sun, took a ride on the rainbow
Moonlight led us to never
And even though I know, we may never meet again
You're a part of me now and forever, Lindsay Jane

Lindsay Jane, you belong to another world
A part of the sea and the sky
You're a part of my dreams, but a lasting memory
Still I wish you were mine, Lindsay Jane

We followed the sun, took a ride on the rainbow
Moonlight led us to never
And even though I know, we may never meet again
You're a part of me now and forever, Lindsay Jane

And even though I know, we may never meet again
You're a part of me now and forever, Lindsay Jane, Lindsay Jane

Carried away, carried away, carried away, carried away
Moonlight, sun, rides on the rainbow
Carried away, carried away, carried away, carried away
Moonlight, sun, rides on the rainbow
Carried away, carried away, carried away, carried away
Moonlight, sun, rides on the rainbow
