

Marmaduke

Cliff Richard

Marmaduke, dear Marmaduke
Have you seen your brother Luke?
They took him off to fight a war
Together we will laugh no more, oh-oh

He was born for her you see
Now he's gone for eternity
I say, "Luke, he gave all his love and a son to be proud of", oh-oh-oh

Marmaduke, dear Marmaduke
Have you seen your brother Luke?
They took him off to fight a war
Together we will laugh no more, oh-oh-oh

Sisters, hide your brothers before they march them up to war
Ladies, hide your lovers before they knock on your front door

Marmaduke, dear Marmaduke
Have you seen your brother Luke?
They took him off to fight a war
Together we will laugh no more, oh-oh-oh

They were married just one year when Luke said
"Goodbye my dear"
Didn't know that her life would change
But it did when he got on that train

Train, choo-choo-choo train
Choo-choo-choo train
Choo-choo-choo-choo train

Marmaduke, dear Marmaduke
Have you seen your brother Luke?
They took him off to fight a war
Together we will laugh no more, oh-oh-oh

Sisters, hide your brothers before they march them up to war
Ladies, hide your lovers before they knock on your front door

Marmaduke, dear Marmaduke
Have you seen your brother Luke?
They took him off to fight a war
Together we will laugh no more, oh-oh-oh

Train, choo-choo-choo train
Choo-choo-choo train
Choo-choo-choo-choo train
Train, choo-choo-choo train
Choo-choo-choo train
Choo-choo-choo-choo train

Marmaduke, where's your brother Luke?
Marmaduke, where's Luke?

Marmaduke, where's your brother Luke?
Marmaduke, where's Luke?

Marmaduke, where's your brother Luke?
Marmaduke, where's Luke?