

She Looked Good

Cliff Richard

I was shopping around, trying to chill out my hurt
Trying to forget the girl that did me dirt
When all of a sudden I thought I spotted relief
The face of an angel that could end my grief

Yeah goodbye fast, I blindly rushed in Never once thinking that she'd do me in
I said to myself, I had to be her man
I was jumping in the fire to the frying pan

She looked good in the window
She looked good in the window
I tried to make her fit but she just wasn't it
But for me the girl was all wrong

She looked good in the window
She looked good in the window
I tried to make her fit but she just wasn't it
But for me the girl was all wrong

I never had a chance with this man-eating girl
She tore my heart from my chest and fed it to the world
I was out of touch with reality
I couldn't figure out what she had done to me

Well I was mesmerized, hypnotized
She completely fooled me with her master disguise
How could I let myself get burned again
I guess that's the way it goes when fools rush in

She looked good in the window
She looked good in the window
I tried to make her fit but she just wasn't it
But for me the girl was all wrong

She looked good in the window
She looked good in the window
I tried to make her fit but she just wasn't it
But for me the girl was all wrong
All wrong

She looked good, ooh

She knocks me off my feet
She got me so messed up, I can't sleep
She got me hopeless with fever
She's a necessary evil

And I'd run if I could
I know she's bad
But it feels so good
Oh, it feels so good

She looked good in the window
She looked good in the window
I tried to make her fit but she just wasn't it
But for me the girl was all wrong

She looked good in the window
She looked good in the window
I tried to make her fit but she just wasn't it
But for me the girl was all wrong
All wrong
All wrong
She looked good
