

With Linda, you're high as a kite
And a union to your wife
And clover through the years
And no one left to steer
From ear to ear

All you see will still be in
All you see is left to take
Linda made you
Linda kissed for free

With human, you pluck the roots
To destroy all you've built
And you've turned on through the years
But no one left to steer
From gear to gear

All you see will still be in
All you see is left to take
Linda made you
Linda kissed for free

All the things that you adore
And all the things that you adore
All the things that you adored
And careful of what you adore
