

The Witch

Clinic

You're giving more than take well
As you know you don't spill
All the people that you keep
With bottles in a row see
Sow your kite and come clean
All the people you need come for free

And given the witch hunt that you leave
And given the witch hunt that you-
A life raw and new breathes

Will you will or won't fight, know it in the daylight
All the people that you bruise
With ballast so you can live, will you will or won't give
All the people that you use come for free

And given the witch hunt that you leave
And given the witch hunt that you-
A life raw and new breathes

Warm on the tarmac, will you or won't tap
All the love you'll never need comes for free

And given the witch hunt that you leave
And given the witch hunt that you-
A life raw and you
The witch who now breathes

A witch you made to measure
Which you made to measure
A witch you made to measure
Which you made to measure
A witch you made to measure
Which you made to measure
