

Modern Warfare

Close To Home

Screaming punctuates the night,
You have the choice to run and hide or stand and fight,
Death is coming, so answer the call,
Find strength in numbers or divided we fall.

You can see the signs are showing,
You can see this war is coming,
The end is near, you can't deny,
With your head up n' eyes open wide,
Keep your wits about you,
The only way you'll pull through,
We are what's keeping us alive,
And we're running out of time.

A new dawn is breaking,
The final page,
This land is ours for the taking,
Bring in the new age,
The stars foretold,
Our last day will come,
The skies will fall,
It won't help if we run.

You can see the signs are showing,
You can see this war is coming,
The end is near, you can't deny,
With your head up n' eyes open wide,
Keep your wits about you,
The only way you'll pull through,
We are what's keeping us alive,
And we're running out of time.

Crowds are running in fear,
Trying to make sense of it all,
But there's no easy way out,
Even with this time that we've spent speculating,
We're unprepared for what is coming our way,

The rivers now all run dry,
We've scorched the earth,
To the point of no return,
But still we burn, burn, burn,
Like a plague we have ravaged,
Until we all return to the dirt.

You can see the signs are showing,
You can see this war is coming,
The end is near, you can't deny,
With your head up n' eyes open wide,
Keep your wits about you,
The only way you'll pull through,
We are what's keeping us alive,
And we're running out of time.

Find strength in numbers or divided we fall,
Death is coming, so answer the call.
