

I taught you how to live
I told you it was right
But someone gave you cancer
From the hole in the sky, the earth, I see
And you demand to know the truth

And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive

So it seems you're part of the problem
And this guilt won't go away
So years go by, you learn to turn it off
Pretend that you're not lost
Forget what the past is
And follow the masses

And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive

And so you've been told
That you are the man
The kingship fucking lord of the land
The one for whom this exists
So take what you wish
You're choking on your own bliss

And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive

These lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
Lies, lies, lies, lies

You shall have dominion over the fish of the sea
Dominion over the birds of the heavens
Over all the earth
Over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth

Go forth children
Multiply
Fill the earth
And subdue it

These lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
And these lies will bury us all alive
Lies, lies, lies, lies
