

Through the Ages

Cloud Cult

If life is a story we're meant to live through,
then both me and you are the pages.
I'll tell you a tale, and most of it's true,
you see, I came here for you through the ages.

Once there was a wanderer who wandered for you,
And I wandered for you through the ages.
Through rainbows, tornadoes, volcanoes, typhoons...
I made it through to be with you through the ages.
We were born on a lightning bolt, grew up in the ocean salt,
We've traveled through ten thousand lives.
So if ever I can't see the magic around me,
please take my hands off my eyes.

I'm done being stupid and worried and dramatic,
so I lay down my every disguise
So if ever I can't see the magic around me,
please take my hands off my eyes.

I don't know where we're from, but we came here to be.
We came here to be courageous.
I don't know what's to come, but I'll stay beside you.
I'll stay beside you through the ages.
If life is a story we're meant to live through,
then both me and you are the pages.
